

Summary: This document summarizes worries that are currently in existent, or already past and resolved. Each event should have an approximate date. These are drafts for those mapping to the actual calendar events. Within the calendar event details/notes is where the “pre-notes” and “post-notes” go. Also, the WeekPlanDoc.tex file should have the worries noted after these situations have been added. These situations should be listed every week (and checked every night), so that pro-active planning can take place.

- TODO: 1. Be sure to apply the worklife cheat sheet here.
2. Add method to improve and learn from these situations.
3. Consider adding resolution.
